HTM 01-05
Infection Control HTM 01-05
This course is recommended for the WHOLE dental team...even your cleaner!

Course Overview:
This highly acclaimed training course has been revised and updated for 2013 to ensure the latest guidance and learning aids, specifically designed to meet the DH-HTM 01-05 and CQC audit requirements. This 90 minute interactive session enables the team to understand the essential changes to infection control, whilst understanding the need for full team compliance, teamwork and effective communication to ensure the effective delivery of infection control and safe operating procedures day after day for you, your colleagues and patients. We will examine or explore the reasons for change and the key risks inherent in the dental industry.

- Understanding your patients & power of the GDC in training
- Introduction to infection control
- Laws and ethics
- PPE, CE marking and choosing the right product
- Microbiology
- Understanding cleaning, disinfection and sterilisation
- Decontamination rooms
- How to effectively communicate and market infection control

Time: 18:00 - 20:30
Only £30 + VAT

2 hours core verifiable CPD

Course objectives:
- To provide a clear understanding of the reasons for implementing effective cross infection control procedures.
- To provide knowledge of the micro-organisms, which may be transferred through dental procedures.
- To introduce the legislative aspects, which relate to cross infection control in the dental environment.
- To provide a detailed explanation of the practices and procedures for implementing effective cross infection control as recommended in the DH-HTM 01-05

Outcomes:
Thorough understanding of the reasons why effective cross infection control is fundamental to the provision of quality dental treatment.
A good working knowledge of all recommended procedures necessary for the implementation of effective infection control in a dental context.

Speakers: Schülke Regional Consultants
All Schülke consultants have been fully trained and certified via an independent exam governed by a regional deanery VT trainer. Only those who achieve a distinction in their exam are then allowed to train practice staff. Schülke is the ONLY company operating to such high standards.
